

DIXONITE'S ONE OF AT LEAST 27 TRAGIC DEATHS

Wilbert Melvin Miller,
30, Killed in Car
Accident Sunday

Wilbert Melvin Miller, 30, of 1222 Sixth street, Dixon, was almost instantly killed Sunday morning about 4 o'clock on U. S. highway 52 about two miles south of Amboy when struck by a machine driven by Ralph Montavon of West Brooklyn. His body was terribly mangled, one leg being almost torn from the body.

Miller and his wife and Jacob Madison left Dixon Saturday night about 10 o'clock in the victim's car and were driving south on route 52. Motor trouble developed shortly after leaving Dixon and at the early hour Sunday morning, they decided to abandon their trip and return home. Miller had succeeded in turning the car around and was pushing the machine from the side with Madison at the steering wheel.

Montavon and Leslie Angel of West Brooklyn with Martin Schuette of Amboy were returning from Mendota and did not observe Miller beside his car on the paving. The Montavon car struck the Dixon man, who was badly crushed. His body was removed to the Vaughan mortuary at Amboy where Dr. Kenyon B. Segner, coroner, conducted an inquest at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Attorney J. C. Ryan of this city was present in Montavon's behalf. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death and exonerated Montavon from blame. Miller's body was later removed to the Preston funeral home in this city.

The deceased was born in Clay county, this state, Feb. 3, 1906 and came to Dixon in 1915 where he has since resided. Surviving him are his widow; two small daughters, Doris Jane and Shirley Mae at home; his mother, Mrs. Nettie Miller; three brothers, Andrew of Macedonia, Ill.; Earl of Beloit, Wis.; Wayne of Dixon; and three sisters, Mrs. Vina Knapp of Deer Grove; Mrs. Pearl Hansen of Moline and Mrs. Edna Fay of Mason City, Iowa.

Funeral services will be held at the Preston funeral home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. W. J. Martz officiating, with burial in Oakwood.

UNUSUAL FATALITY

Jonas Nelson, 72, of Rock Falls, was almost instantly killed Saturday evening at about 7 o'clock on the new U. S. route 30 paving, two miles east of state route 88, southeast of Rock Falls in an unusual accident, in which he was pulled from the front seat of a car driven by Everett Hamilton, also of Rock Falls when he opened the door to spit. The door on an older fashioned car, opened from the back and when Nelson released the catch the wind caught the door and jerked him to the pavement.

Hamilton stopped his car at once and was carrying the aged man across the paving, when a machine driven by Kobus Leeman of Rock Falls struck them.

State highway police were summoned and removed both men to the Sterling public hospital, when Nelson was pronounced dead and Hamilton was reported to have sustained internal injuries. Nelson's body was taken to the Wheelock funeral home in Rock Falls.

TOLL IN ILLINOIS

(By The Associated Press)
Death in violent form struck down at least 27 persons in Illinois during the week-end, an Associated Press survey showed today. No less than 15 persons were victims of traffic accidents as "perfect" fall weather brought thousands of motorists to the state's highways.

Traffic accidents claimed four lives in the Danville vicinity. A man identified from a draft registration card as James R. Cooper, 21, Brazil, Ind., and his unidentified girl companion were killed yesterday when his motorcycle and an automobile collided north of Danville. Alex. Donzeski, 65-year-old retired farmer, was killed Saturday night when he was struck by an auto while walking along a highway in Westville. William Houston 37, Westville, miner, died yesterday in a Danville hospital from injuries suffered in an auto-truck collision Friday in Westville.

Mervin Schlosser, 37, a justice-of-the-peace at Ursa, died yesterday in a Quincy hospital from gunshot wounds which Sheriff George Meyer said were inflicted by a brother, Harry Schlosser, 32, also of Ursa, during a quarrel last Thursday. Harry Schlosser was arraigned Saturday and bail was fixed at $3,000, but the sheriff said that in view of the brother's death, he would file a "more serious" charge after the inquest.

Copies of Master List in Hands of Co. Draft Boards

BULLETIN
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—State selective service headquarters announced today that the army has called upon Illinois to furnish 828 men to be inducted into military service on November 18.

The announcement was made in a statement which adds "it is obvious that no local board will be called upon for more than a very few men for this first call and also, it is probable in almost every board area there are more than enough volunteers to fill the quotas".

Lee county's two selective service boards, with headquarters in Dixon and Amboy, respectively, today received their copies of the national master list, an official record of the order in which serial numbers were drawn in the draft lottery at Washington last Tuesday. The local boards also received a few copies of the questionnaire which registrants will be required to answer.

The boards expect to receive their full supplies of the question forms as soon as they are available from the government printing office and national selective service headquarters, probably the last of the week state officials at Springfield said today.

Registration Mounts

Meanwhile late registrations were added to the state's total, bringing the figure for Illinois close to the million mark. Lee county board No. 2, Amboy, today listed No. 1726 in George LeRoy Koepfer of rural route 1, Sublette. The county total is now 3,582.

At yet, Federal prosecuting attorneys in Springfield said, no formal action has been started to round up delinquents. Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and district attorneys said they were ready to prosecute recalcitrants but awaited instructions from Washington.

Paul G. Armstrong, state selective director, announced that the net quota of conscripts for Illinois based upon a quota of 789,000 men to be in training by July 1 next

USUAL ELECTION EVE LULL TO BE MISSING TONIGHT

Campaign Surges to Its Finish With Final
Minute Appeals

By The Associated Press
The turbulent and unpredictable 1940 presidential campaign came to the end of the trail today amid a tumult of rival claims, political oratory and urgent last minute appeals for votes.

The crowded closing hours held little in keeping with the old tradition of a quiet election eve. Apart from the final messages which President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie were to make to the electorate, both Democratic and Republican parties marshalled speakers, national and local, for a series of eleventh hour broadcasts.

Roosevelt, back in New York where he will receive the returns tomorrow night at his Hyde Park home, set aside his day for campaigning among his Hudson valley neighbors, very much as he did on the eve of the 1936 election.

His final message to the electorate will highlight the two hour nationwide radio program (NBC, CBS, MEC from 9 p. m. to 11 p. m. (CST) arranged by the Democratic national committee. Roosevelt will speak from Hyde Park shortly after 10 p. m. Henry A. Wallace, his partner on the ticket, also will make a final address.

"Final National Address"
At first it was thought Roosevelt might use the occasion for another major political address, but this belief was discounted after his assertion at Cleveland Saturday that he was then making his "final national address of the campaign". President expectations were that he would simply urge all eligible voters to exercise their franchise tomorrow.

Willkie, winding up his strenuous, marathon campaign, had three radio speaking engagements on his election eve schedule. The first was his closing speech to the Women of America (CBS 2:15 p. m.) Then he will take to the air again (CBS 9:15 p. m.) with Senator McNary of Oregon, his running mate, and return to the networks for his last word in an hour long program (over all major chains) ending at midnight.

The character of Willkie's three final addresses was not indicated. Aides said the subject matter might depend on what Democratic orators had to say previously, or on other developments. For the most part, however, the Republican nominee was looking forward to a comparatively quiet day.

Usual Contradictions

Election eve found no dearth of the usual contradictory forecasts of victory. Although record-breaking registrations, cross-currents and the like made for unusual uncertainty, predictions were as confident as ever.

Democratic National Chairman Flynn first predicted a minimum of 427 electoral votes for Roosevelt, but then upped his estimate last night to an undisclosed higher figure.

Republican National Chairman Martin, meanwhile, was claiming a Willkie minimum of 324 electoral votes—a comfortable margin over the 266 necessary for election.

The weather bureau, forecasting in another field, saw generally fair weather for most of the coun-

Ashton Men Hurt in Accident East of Dixon

—Telegraph Photos

Lawrence Jennings and Hale Scott, both of Ashton, were badly injured in an automobile accident at 9 o'clock this morning, six miles east of Dixon on the Lincoln highway, when Jennings' car blew a tire, left the pavement and crashed into the headwall of a concrete culvert just east of the Gul Moulton farm, the car turning end over end.

Scott was reported to have been the worst injured, being cut about the head and suffering chest injuries. Sheriff Gilbert Finch, who was called to the scene of the accident, ordered both men removed to the Dixon public hospital. Jennings was reported to have suffered several minor cuts and bruises and complained of injury to his back. The car was practically demolished.

Scenes taken at the wreck by a Telegraph staff photographer show, left: Sheriff Finch directing the placing of one of the victims into an ambulance; right: the overturned car before the injured men, covered with blankets (arrow) had been removed.

EDITORIAL VOTE EARLY

Let nothing interfere with the casting of your ballot tomorrow. Your personal liberty and the future of your family and your fellow Americans may be decided at this election.

Get to the polls early. Don't wait until the late afternoon when the booths are crowded.

On the small separate ballot vote "FOR" on the special T. B. tax.

On the large ballot put your cross in the circle at the top of the Republican column, thereby voting the straight Republican ticket.

Vote for Willkie, not for War. Vote for Green and not for Greed.

The election of the Republican ticket is our best guaranteed of peace and prosperity and good government and a free and independent United States of America.

Never in the history of our nation has your vote been so important to national welfare as it is tomorrow. Times were crucial in 1776 and in 1861 and now, in 1940 a Third Term menace with its threat of dictatorship brings another crisis. Vote to keep America safe and free. Vote Republican.

Willkie to Favor Legal Limitation of Executive Term

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—On the eve of the first presidential election in which a third-term bid has been made, Wendell L. Willkie proposed today a constitutional amendment limiting the service of any president to eight years or less.

Before making three last-minute radio appeals to the American voters, the Republican presidential nominee said in a statement that if the "common law against a third term be repealed", there would be no law to restrain President Roosevelt "or any of his successors elected, hereditary or appointed, from any indefinite number of terms".

"When elected", Willkie said, "in order to prevent any subsequent demonstrations of such ambitious voters, in my first message to congress I shall recommend that they submit a constitutional

Roosevelt Spends Today Addressing New York People

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt arrived home from Washington today for a final five-speech campaign among his neighbors in the Hudson valley where he was born and reared and for a radio address to the nation.

He arranged for the day a program almost identical with the one he followed on the final day before election in 1936, when he motored for miles up one side of the Hudson river and down the other, with brief, informal speeches along the way.

There were signs that the president, instead of making another major political address, might limit himself tonight largely to an appeal to all eligible voters to go to the polls tomorrow.

That was what he did four years ago. And, speaking in Cleveland's public auditorium Saturday night, he said then he was making his "final national address of the campaign".

Asks "Confidence"

In it, the chief executive asked for a "vote of confidence" and declared that at the end of this next term there would be "another president".

Roosevelt left for his Hyde Park, N. Y., home last night after an 11-hour stay in the capital which allowed him opportunity to confer on international affairs with Secretary Hull and Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state. They had met him at the station in Washington upon his return from a political foray into New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, whose combined total of 109 electoral votes comprise more than a fifth of all those at stake tomorrow.

The president's own vote, and those of his family, will be cast tomorrow in the little white frame town hall in Hyde Park village, a mile and a half from the Roosevelt estate.

Mixture of Colder and Windy Weather With Occasional Showers Election Day

Chicago, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A mixture of colder, windy weather and intermittent showers was forecast for the north-central states tomorrow, election day, by the Chicago weather bureau.

Forecaster R. E. Gumpf predicted condition as of 6:30 a. m. tomorrow and thereafter this way:

"Draw an imaginary line from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., to Kansas City, Mo. That will be the front of a zone of colder weather advancing from the northwest."

"Northwest from that line it will have turned cold—a hard freeze and temperatures of 20 to 25 in the Dakotas and northwestern Minnesota, near freezing in Nebraska and western Iowa, in the mid-30s in northwestern Wisconsin."

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Reports in Washington and London that Herr Hitler is preparing a fresh peace offensive may be apocrypha (Berlin denies them) but still are important as emphasizing that the war has passed the possibility of peace by agreement, barring some strange and wholly unexpected development.

Hard as it is to say, it's difficult to see how the conflict can be settled excepting by the total defeat of one side or the other. Europe just isn't big enough to hold Adolf Hitler and Britain.

Should it prove to be true that the fuhrer is indeed preparing peace terms it would, of course, be significant as indicating that he no longer feels confident he can smash England. That would be his reason for stopping now.

The reported terms provide that "the British empire, being undefeated and unconquered", should remain as it is. Europe, "being conquered by Germany", should be regarded as outside England's sphere of influence.

That would be a grand bargain for the Nazi leader. However, even if John Bull were willing to forego his oath to free his allies from German subjugation, he would seem to me to be inviting disaster to accept such terms.

Peace under an agreement like that couldn't be lasting. It would in reality represent a stalemate and war would blaze again as sure as day follows night.

Hitler has sworn time and again to destroy the British em-

Change Line of March for Parade This Eve

The committee of the Lee County Young Republican's organization sponsoring the "No Third Term" parade this evening, has changed the line of march through the business district, which was announced Saturday. The large number of marchers and decorated cars and floats necessitated the change.

The parade will form in front of the high school and at 8 o'clock will cross the Peoria avenue bridge to First street, then move east on First street to Ottawa avenue, south on Ottawa avenue to Second street, east on Second street to Crawford avenue, south on Crawford avenue to Third street, west on Third street to Galena avenue, north on Galena avenue to Boyd street where the parade will disband.

Immediately following the parade a meeting of colored voters will be held at the home of Homer Collins, at 814 Jay Dee avenue.

Guam Typhoon Damages Over Million and Half

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The navy and the Red Cross made available today a total of $35,000 for relief and reconstruction on the typhoon-swept island of Guam, American naval outpost in the Pacific.

An initial emergency outlay of $25,000 was authorized by the navy, and a $10,000 relief fund was granted by the Red Cross.

Governor George J. McMillan estimated that a storm which struck the island Saturday did $365,500 damage to naval property, $50,000 damage to property of the island government and $1,200,000 damage to private property.

Available information indicated no fatalities among either the civil or military population, he said.

Danger to Gibraltar Seen in Spanish Move in Africa

(By The Associated Press)

Fighting over snow-blanketed mountains, Greek Alpine troops were reported to have driven seven miles into Italian-held Albania today, ringing the fascist supply base at Koritza and capturing 1,200 Italian prisoners.

Pro-axis Spain, in a possible forerunner to an attack on Britain's rock bastion of Gibraltar, seized absolute control of the so-called Tangier "international zone" on the north coast of Africa—southwest of Gibraltar.

Vitality important in the European war front, the Tangier zone commands the Atlantic approach to the Mediterranean sea.

If placed at the disposal of the Rome-Berlin axis as a naval base, the zone might play a decisive role in any axis plan to bottle up the British Mediterranean fleet and end British control of the waters which Italians call "mare nostrum—our sea".

British Troops to Greece

In further support of the eight-day-old Greek defense, the British were reported preparing to send three army divisions, about 45,000 troops, to combat the Italian invasion.

Dispatches from Yugoslavia said the fall of Koritza, in the northern sector of the 100-mile Balkan war front, was "expected momentarily".

In the southern sector, Greek defenders were said to have repulsed Italian columns in fierce hand-to-hand fighting was bayonets and grenades.

The Greek high command said a heavy Italian attack in the mountains of Epirus province, preceded by 15 consecutive bombing forays against Greek defense positions, had been routed with the destruction of nine fascist tanks.

Stefani, the official Italian news agency, acknowledged that Premier Mussolini's legion were meeting stiff Greek resistance in the Ioannina (Janina) region at the southwest end of the front.

Italians Blame Weather

A Stefani war correspondent reported that the Italian invaders had entered Greek territory "varying distance", and he added: "The Italian advance failed to acquire lightning rhythm because of bad weather prevailing for several days and because of bad roads the army's advance was interrupted here and there by dynamite mines exploded by the Greek rear guard."

The Greeks, he said, were fighting with British and French artillery, rifles, ammunition and warplanes.

Official circles in London confirmed that British troops now have landed on the Greek island of Crete, opposite the Italian Dodecanese islands.

British naval assistance in striking at the Italian invasion was also indicated in sketchy reports of a sea battle Sunday evening west of the island of Corfu, at the lower end of the Greek-Albanian frontier.

The Athens radio said that 30 minutes after firing at sea was heard "a large vessel was seen ablaze, steaming northward", toward Italian defense bases—indicating the ship was Italian.

Italian Cities Attacked

At the same time, British R. A. F. bombers, now presumably operating from Greek bases, caused an hour and 45-minute alarm in Rome, the Italian capital's first alert since July 29—and also attacked Naples again.

Mussolini's high command said that the R. A. F. raiders failed to reach Rome, although the capital's populace was awakened by the sound of anti-aircraft fire, forcing them to drop their bombs in the open countryside.

In Athens the semi-official Greek news agency asserted Italian claims of having penetrated the Greek defense line were "a tissue of scurrilous lies".

The agency continued: "The Italian talk of conquest of vast territories containing hundreds of thousands of inhabitants. In reality they are still being held in the frontier region where indeed certain points are already known to have been freed by the bayonets of the Greek army."

Last week, the Italians claimed to have advanced 35 miles in the Ioannina sector, capturing 79 villages.

Brief Mention

The Italian high command again gave only the briefest mention of the Balkan war, asserting that five "enemy" planes were shot down in an air fight over Salonika.

Some observers saw the Italian invasion of Greece as only one phase of a four-point axis winter offensive:

1. An Italian campaign to seize Salonika and the Greek isles.
2. An Italian drive toward the British naval base of Alexandria and the Suez canal from the advance base at Sidi Barrani, 60 miles inside the Egyptian-Libyan border.
3. A German thrust through Bulgaria to aid Italy, aimed at undermining Greek defenses by striking at Macedonia.
4. A German attack on the Dardanelles, opening the gate to Turkey, Syria, Palestine and the

What Roosevelt Once Said of "Influence"

How about the larger number of public officials who are honest in the sense that they cannot be put in jail, but who are dishonest in the sense that they commit acts which are ethically or morally wrong?

What of the public official who allows a member of his family to obtain fees or benefits through his political influence? Are you sure that your local candidate would stand firmly against that kind of moral dishonesty?

—Franklin D. Roosevelt, at Albany, N. Y., Oct. 30, 1929

Are You Guilty?

Eighty Millions of Americans Are Eligible to Vote at the Great National Election November 5

Only Fifty Millions of Them, It Is Thought, Will Go to the Polls and Cast Their Ballots

That means that around thirty millions care so little about their own government—their own future—that they will not vote.

Are you among those thirty millions? Are you guilty of this betrayal of the great principle of democratic government—the right of the people to rule?

We are the inheritors of a land whose freedom was won, defined and established by Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln.

They lived, fought and died for principles that we, at the least, should be willing to vote to uphold.

Here—almost the last country on earth—men and women can still go to the polls without interference, without restriction, without threats or fears and choose their leaders. Regardless of party designation you may still vote for whom you please.

Aren't you glad to be living in a land where that is possible? Don't you rejoice that you and your neighbors can select your mayors, county and state officials, and help determine the future of the nation by voting for its president?

Across the seas armed powers are shaping their civilization by warfare in which even the innocent child is not spared.

But in this land is peace. From whatever home or shop or office or farm, we are equal partners, with equal voice and equal powers, on election day.

The comradeship of the ballot box marks our protection against dictatorship.

Will you betray that safeguard — by staying away from the polls?

Will you betray your neighbor, who is thoughtfully making up his mind, and prayerfully determined to vote his convictions?

TOMORROW IS THE DAY YOU MUST VOTE

It has rightly been said that no more fateful election has been held in our generation.

May the decision be made by ALL the American people, proud, free, democratic people, masters of their own destiny in this troubled world.

YOU A QUESTION?

"A LOT OF US BIRDS are beginning to wonder, about this time of the year, just what kind of a cooking we'll get this Thanksgiving."

"Some of your neighbors will be doing us up brown in a modern new gas range, and not having to constantly peek in and watch us."

"Now we don't want to cause YOU extra bother and trouble either. Yes, we know you are a good cook -- but how much easier it would be with a shiny new gas range, with automatic heat controls and fast, insulated ovens!"

Yes, Mrs. Housewife, many women agree with Mr. Turkey—

Cooking IS easier with a new gas range! Not only for Thanksgiving -- but for every meal in the year! You can have a fast, clean, new gas range in your home to save you work and money -- for more than a thousand meals each year!

Why not trade in that old stove now -- it deserves a rest, and so do you! Come in and see these marvelous labor-saving ranges. They are easy to keep clean, easy to use, and economical to own and operate!

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Experience in Foreign Affairs

It is said the Third Term candidate, as Willkie calls the President, has had a great deal of experience in foreign affairs.

He has had this kind of experience: For seven years he has lent millions of dollars to China, while at the same time permitting the exports of war materials to Japan. When criticism of this policy, from non-experts, got too hot, the President embargoed the sale of certain kinds of scrap iron and gasoline to Japan. He was helping China with one hand, and helping the Japs with the other.

Until public opinion against war in the Orient became too much for an election campaign, Washington seethed with rumors about further steps that were to be taken against Japan. At the same time Mr. Roosevelt's undersecretary of state said there is no problem between the United States and Japan that can't be settled by further talk.

For some time Washington was excited by the President's grand plan to buy up all South America's surplus crops, including cotton, corn and Argentine beef. South America's hopes soared. At last the Latins were to get into the easy money. But later the President's administration was forced to admit that the plan was made hastily, that it was not only imperfect, but impossible to carry out.

A comment on United States foreign policy was made in 1837 by Winston Churchill, England's present war prime minister. Mr. Churchill said: "There is one way, above all others, in which the United States can aid the European democracies. Let her regain and maintain her normal prosperity. . . . The quarrel in which President Roosevelt is involved with wealth and business may produce results profoundly harmful to ideas which to him and his people are dear."

Churchill has had more experience than Roosevelt.

Record of Defeatism

During the eight years in which the New Deal has influenced American economy, an average of nine million people have remained out of work, living pitifully on the $12 a week from WPA, or on leaf raking, or on surplus beans and spuds from food stamps or other forms of "relief."

If this 9 million people had been permitted to work in legitimate industry, they would have produced 100 billion dollars worth of goods which, in turn, would have enriched the United States, raised the standard of living and led to new paths of prosperity.

During the nearly eight years in which this multitude of 9 million should have earned 100 billion, 40 billion dollars has been spent to give them relief. Much of this has been wasted. Much of it has gone to payrollers and others who not only had a pull, but were able to dig into the treasury and the people's credit.

Taxes have restricted new investment in factories which would have made jobs. Lack of confidence in the direction our government was taking has kept money idle—and not only that: It has curtailed the operation of plants, or caused them to close down forever.

The New Deal simply can't be made to understand that people will not build factories that may be taken away from them tomorrow.

The people of the United States must decide next Tuesday whether these unemployed will continue to live on borrowed money until the government's credit is gone—and then to starve; or whether they will vote for a return to confidence in the government of the United States as it has been maintained—until the New Deal—for 150 years.

Election Day Payoff?

Edward J. Barrett, auditor of public accounts, has a neatly printed card which has been mailed to those who received, in the last few days, some of their own money out of banks which President Roosevelt ordered closed more than seven years ago. Mr. Barrett kindly puts in a plug for John C. Martin, Democratic candidate for auditor of public accounts. Mr. Martin has assured me," says Auditor Barrett, "that if elected he will continue this same policy of orderly liquidation."

Isn't campaign literature, enclosed with one's own money, something new in Illinois politics?

Whet Your Wits on This

Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois congressman, has been having some fun quoting from the government's latest tax measure. Mr. Dirksen says it deals with amortization of defense facilities, excess profits, army insurance and a number of other things. Most of us will have to take Mr. Dirksen's word for it. For all we know, it includes the kitchen range, the doghouse and how to oil the lawn mower. We quote Mr. Dirksen's quote:

"If during the taxable year there has been a short-term capital gain with respect to an admissible asset, then so much of the amount attributable to such inadmissible asset under sub-section (b) as bears the same ratio thereto as such gain bears to the sum of such gain plus the dividends and interest on such asset for such year, shall, for the purpose of determining the ratio of inadmissible assets to the total of admissible and inadmissible assets, be added to the total of admissible assets and subtracted from the total of inadmissible assets."

Why not just give 'em the stove, doghouse and lawn mower?

Germanizing the Dead

Probably the thing that will cause nazism to fail in the end is a certain lack of that last saving grace, humor. We don't mean humor in the crude sense of ability to see a joke, but in the broad connotation of a certain sense of the fitness of things.

In Alsace, perennial shuttlecock of the German-French game, the Germans are now campaigning to "make the district German" once and for all. Alsatian men named Henri, for instance, have to change that name to Heinrich. But not only that. All tombstone inscriptions are also to be in German. No Nazi will see anything wrong in that. But there are plenty of others left in the world who will, and it is more possible that it is little stupidities, little obscurities, little callouses over the more tender parts of the spirit, which will some day stop the nazis, where the tanks and turrets failed to stop them.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Nov. 4—Discouragement akin to panic has beset much of the Roosevelt leadership on the eve of the election. It has been kept well in hand and away from the public ear, although it started about two weeks ago, and has increased constantly since then.

At that time it was decided to pull Wallace, the vice-presidential candidate, hurriedly off the farm battleground, although that had been his special bailiwick and his standing there had furnished the main reason for his choice as running mate. He was shifted into other areas, mostly industrial, for the remainder of the campaign. Rushed to the hustings to take his place was his supposedly non-political successor in the cabinet Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard.

The chance, although engineered in such a natural way that its significance did not become apparent, signaled a complete reversal of Roosevelt grand strategy. Wallace's efforts to accentuate the imminence of war crisis—as a justification for a third term—scared the farmers who do not want war, Wickard, who replaced him, immediately hewed to the pacifying line holding out the reverse prospect of maintaining peace through defense.

The whole White House campaign had to switch around suddenly that way.

Many of the Democratic congressmen running for re-election have been unnerved by the stretch surge of Willkie. One such, from Missouri, a state which a month ago was counted surely Roosevelt, expressed serious doubts to his colleagues over the week end as to whether he could pull himself through. His wail was that he could defeat his Republican congressional opponent easily enough, but was doubtful of what the Willkie trend would do to him.

Maryland was another state typically reflecting the sudden uncalculated upheaval. Registration in certain counties there showed substantial increases which carried implications of a major Republican trend in a state therefore considered a Roosevelt cinch.

Those who trust in trends, and cycles have also noted that Roosevelt started having other bad political luck about a week ago for the first time in his public career. His choice of Boston for an agricultural and pro-British speech was dismaying to some of his campaign followers. The Irish of Boston were considered less likely to love the British, and New England Democratic congressmen have been accustomed to vote against the Democratic farm program just as determinedly as the Republicans.

The unfortunate involvement of the President's secretary with a Negro policeman in vital New York was one of those breaks which Roosevelt has never before encountered in his previous campaigns. His reference to Kennedy as "My" ambassador instead of the government's, was one of those troublesome slips which caused Willkie so much trouble earlier but which never happened to Roosevelt before. The break of the two Lewis's, John and Joe, is likewise something with which Roosevelt has never been required to cope.

This plague of Washington jitters does not necessarily mean that Willkie is in the bag and on the way home. Four years ago the President himself—in fact everyone around Democratic headquarters except Jim Farley—failed to expect the extent of the sweep that was to be theirs. A momentary relapse hit their spirits in the final drive although it did not in any way approximate what has happened lately.

Republicans too are less positive personally of the outcome than their published statements naturally must maintain. They are not trusting their ears for all they hear. They are confident but somewhat just not certain. It's like a horse race. You always think the favorite is going to win before the race.

It could not be otherwise in a campaign in which even the final polls leave the issue in doubt. The plain fact is that everything which had gone Roosevelt's way up to two or three weeks ago suddenly started going the other way, and no one can tell how far until the polls close Tuesday.

Airliner With 10 Aboard, Missing in Snow, Located

Salt Lake City, Nov. 4—(AP)—A missing United Airlines plane with 10 aboard was located today on the ground in the mountain country north of Centerville, Utah.

Centerville lies at the foot of the towering Wasatch mountains. The plane was sighted by searching fliers.

They radioed to the Salt Lake airport that the plane did not appear to be in bad condition, the pilot, Captain Howard Fey, seemingly having attempted a forced landing.

The plane left Oakland at 9:30 o'clock last night and was last heard from when the pilot, Capt. Howard Fey, reported he was heading into Salt Lake City on the radio beam but was flying through a snow storm.

The ship was due at Salt Lake at 2:30 a. m.

United Airlines' log listed these passengers: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Muir, Detroit; Joe Cassero, Oakland, Calif.; E. A. Dybdahl, Ferguson Falls, Minn.; G. L. Stevenson, Sacramento, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilson, Maywood, Ill.

Ground parties started for the scene, which was described as approximately six miles east and two miles north of Centerville, which is 10 miles north of Salt Lake City.

William Haws, United Airlines flier who "spotted" the grounded plane, said low-hanging clouds obscured his vision. He was unable to determine whether any of the seven passengers or crew of three had survived the crash-up.

H said the plane was in a canyon on the south side of 7,000 foot Bountiful peak.

Officials said ground parties would be unable to reach the scene for several hours due to the heavy snow.

Fugitives From French Penal Island are Given Provisions by American

Paulsboro, N. J., Nov. 4—(AP)—A story of giving provisions at sea to nine exhausted men who said they had escaped from the French penal colony on Devil's Island was told here today by an American tanker captain.

Captain H. L. Dahlof of the L. P. Sinclair said his crew sighted the men adrift in an open boat in the Caribbean sea 1,000 miles from the penal colony off South America. He said they had been without food and water for five days.

Ships' officers, he said, gave them food and 50 gallons of water. Dahlof said he heard later by radio that the men had landed safely at Haiti.

Authorities Convinced Aged Doctor Meant No Bodily Harm to Willkie

New York, Nov. 4—(AP)—A 78-year-old physician has convinced authorities he meant no harm when he moved toward Wendell Willkie Saturday night at Madison Square Garden with a loaded gun in his pocket.

The aged man, Dr. Union S. Ward, who bore a large Willkie button when arrested, was released in $500 bail on charge of violating the Sullivan anti-fire-arms law yesterday. Bail was provided by a Republican district leader who said he had given Dr. Ward tickets for the Willkie rally.

Assistant District Attorney Jacob Rosenblum said police were satisfied the man was harmless. Detectives reported that his ancient .32-caliber revolver wouldn't fire because of a faulty firing pin.

Dr. Ward, who when arrested was dressed in a long black coat, high choker collar and derby, was quoted by police as saying he kept the weapon and two more found at home "for protection."

The physician was arrested when he pushed forward through the crowd to "get a better look" at Willkie. A man and woman who said they saw him shift a gun from a trouser pocket to his overcoat summoned a policeman.

Voters: The women of Dixon that stand for progress and good government will vote the straight Republican ticket on Nov. 4.

SERIAL STORY

BY W. H. PEARS

CHAPTER I

AT three minutes of 10, Bill Mentor stripped off his white apron and dashed for the door of the drug store. Old Julius Peskin darted from the back room like a spider after a fly.

"So now, Mentor, you pick your own quitting 'me'?" His dry, thin voice quivered. "You're paid to work from 4 until 10, not when the spirit moves you."

"But tonight's the first game of the season, Mr. Peskin. I'd like to see a few minutes of the last quarter." From nearly six feet up Bill watched the putty-colored bald spot on the little man's head turn crimson. "I've swept out and—"

"Slap things up in a hurry," Peskin grumbled. "If it wasn't for the ill-will I'd gain around the school, I'd yank my son Walton off the team and put him in your place here."

"Yes, sir," Bill said, edging toward the door. "It's 10 o'clock now, Mr. Peskin."

Peskin looked satisfied at having gained his rightful time, even in talk. "Go ahead," he snapped.

BILL was on his bicycle before the door slammed. He streaked through the clear autumn night, broad shoulders hunched over the handlebars, legs driving like pistons. Crossing Market street he saw a wide halo of light against the sky. He heard distant cheering and his heart leaped in response. The game was still on!

Bill sliced between parked cars, skidded to a stop. Inside City Stadium he could hear the rising chant of a "Yea-a-a team!" Applause rattled, followed by the abrupt silence that precedes play. Running up the ramp, Bill caught a black glimpse of the scoreboard: VISITORS, 6; WEST 0.

Down on the cleat-chewed sward the West boys were in a huddle, their jerseys making a huge crimson blossom against the green turf.

"Bill, here I am!" Helen Welch ran toward him, waving. Her chestnut curls were windblown and adorned with a crimson ribbon to match her short skirt. Slim, eager, she said, "I was afraid you wouldn't get here."

"Me, too," Bill said with a grin. "Jeepers, Helen, there goes a pass!"

It was a wobbly, erratic heave from Peskin. A Benton man charged in to bat it aside, but with a desperate lunge the West end grabbed it. He was knocked out of bounds on the Benton 25.

A deafening roar went up from the crowd. The band crashed forth in pagan triumph. Crimson-skirted cheerleaders spun around like dervishes, pounding the air with their fists, chanting, "We want a touchdown!"

"Oh, Bill!" Helen's eyes shone as she joined her voice to the pandemonium. She danced up and down, grabbed Bill impulsively and kissed him. "Bill, Bill, they're going to do it."

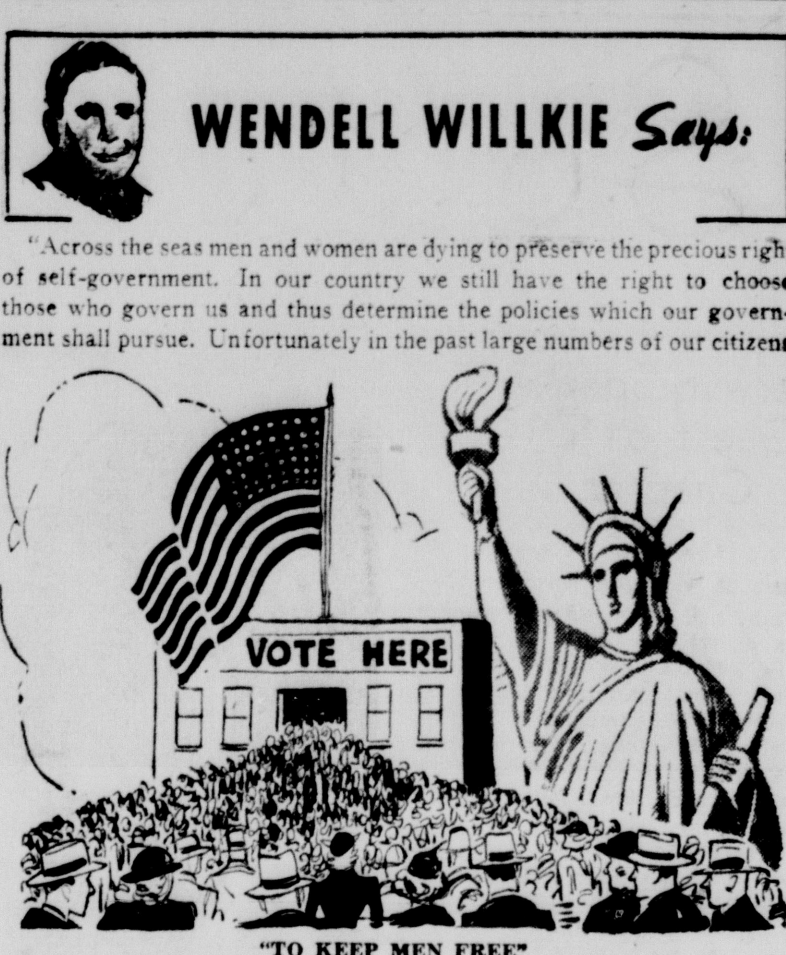

"Gee . . ." Bill stared at Helen, touching his fingers to his lips. "You . . . kissed me?"

"Oh . . ." Helen's cheeks flamed. "I didn't mean to, Bill. Honestly, I—I was excited and . . ."

Her voice was lost in wild cheering as Hart, West's fullback, bucked the line for five. The timekeeper signaled three minutes to play. The Benton boys looked tired. Straight, hard smashes would do it, Bill thought, trembling.

"Drive!" he prayed.

The mild fall wind struck icily across his hot forehead. He could almost feel the hard, taut leather in his big hands. If he could only be down there now, carrying the ball or even running interference. Throwing himself into a sweet roll block, clearing the way for a West man to score. Boy!

have been indifferent to their right and responsibility of voting. My final appeal to the American people in this campaign is that every man and woman eligible to vote do so today. No other duty or engagement can be more important at this critical hour in world affairs than that of going to your polling place to participate with your neighbors in the selection of those men and women who will govern this country. If all men and women perform their duty as citizens by voting today, not only shall we strengthen our American system of government but we shall give a demonstration to the world of the manner in which democracy can function to keep men free."

The West end grabbed the ball . . . was knocked out on the Benton 25. A deafening roar went up from the stands.

The Benton line held. It was last down with three to go. Landis replaced Peskin with Calvert. Hart took the pass from center, faked a thrust at the line and gave the ball to Calvert, who flipped it backward to the left halfback. Instead of racing to the right for a clear shot at the end, the halfback hurried the pass away and it went straight into the hands of a Benton man.

A low mown swept the stands. The band was silent, the cheerleader wilted and mute. Boos were heard as Benton froze to the ball for three plays, then punted out of danger. A moment later the timekeeper's pistol exploded.

AS Bill and Helen pushed slowly through the disconsolate crowd they recognized Pat Hurly, sports editor of the Daily Clarion, and heard him grumble, "That would-n't have happened if Buck Mentor'd been coaching. What a time for razzle-dazzle!"

Wheeling his bicycle, Bill walked by Helen's side in silence. He thought of his father, sitting alone by the radio, and it made him unhappy. Why, Buck had forgotten more football than Coach Landis ever knew!

Helen said shyly, "I'm sorry, Bill."

"About the game?" She shook her head, blushing. "About what I did . . ."

"Gee, why, Helen? I—I li—I mean I didn't mind."

Embarrassed, they said no more until they reached home. Bill hesitated at the Welch's front porch. "Well, goodnight."

"Goodnight, Bill."

He started across the yard to his house, then stopped. "Helen . . ."

He fumbled for words. "Maybe . . . well, I hadn't ought to say this, but I'm kinda low tonight. Would you want to—to . . ."

Helen's feet pattered down the steps. Her lips brushed his tense young mouth. "Was that what you wanted, Bill?" she asked softly.

Before Bill could reply she was gone. He turned thoughtfully homeward.

BUCK MENTOR sat in his invalid chair by the radio. On the table was his football note-

Berwyn Speaker Is Guest of Dixon Chapter, D. A. R.

"An absolutely unique native music is emerging in America", members of Dixon chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were told Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Helen Hamilton Finley of Berwyn, accomplished pianist, teacher and writer. The occasion was the November meeting of the chapter, with Mrs. Collins Dysart entertaining.

Mrs. Finley, who is a charter member of the High Prairie Trail chapter, D. A. R., chose "American Music and American Composers" as the subject for her lecture, in which she stated that America is in a period of transition and change in music of 12 or 15 years' standing.

Listing various influences affecting American music, the speaker first mentioned the European struggle, which has forced many foreign artists to seek refuge in this country. In illustration, she cited Alec Templeton, young British pianist, who surely would have returned to England if it had not been for the war. As an example of Templeton's ability at composition, Mrs. Finley played "To What Place".

While pointing out the obvious condition made by negro music, the speaker said that musicians have become increasingly conscious of spirituals recently. She played "Juba Dance" by Nathaniel Dett to illustrate the negro influence.

Indian Music

The Indians, too, the chapter members were told, have made a contribution to modern American music, although much so-called Indian music is distinctly artificial. The Indians, Mrs. Finley explained, never write down tunes, so composers are forced to go into the southwest, listen to the music, and then put it on paper. "Little Indian," written by John Alden Carpenter, a sophisticated urban composer, was played in illustration.

Mrs. Finley then discussed the influence on American music which may be traced to the ranches and mountains of the south and southwest. "The Harmonica Player" was the selection chosen by the speaker to illustrate David Guion, an exponent of this type of music.

"Women composers", Mrs. Finley believes, have little merit at this time, although she played a lullaby composed by one of her own pupils, eight-year-old Catherine Ann Wagner of Western Springs, Ill. The concluding group which Mrs. Finley brought to the attention of her listeners reflects the life of American cities, and embraces Deems Taylor, Howard Hanson, Albert Hay Mello, Roy Harris, John Alden Carpenter, and Leo Sowerby. She brought her informal lecture-recital to a close with Sowerby's "Irish Washerwoman", showing the composer in lighter vein. Mrs. Grover W. Gehant, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Missionary from Africa to Speak to Travel Club

The Rev. Herbert A. Hoisington of Rockford, a missionary who has been in service more than 25 years in French West Africa, is to be the guest speaker at the November meeting of the Foreign Travel club. Dr. and Mrs. W. A. McNichols of 916 East Fellows street will entertain at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Hoisington, who will illustrate his travelogue with moving pictures, has crossed the Atlantic and returned seven times. He is now on furlough, having left his mission post in the province of Cameroun on June 20.

The missionary and his wife boarded a French steamer at Dakar, and while at sea, learned that the Germans had entered France. After a perilous ocean voyage, they reached Rockford in late August, requiring nearly three months for a journey which would be completed in five weeks in normal times.

The speaker's moving picture reels include numerous scenes of the natives of his mission and their customs.

FROM SPRINGFIELD

Mrs. Roy Ide of Springfield and her niece, Mrs. William Barthelme, who had been visiting in Springfield, came to Dixon yesterday. Mrs. Ide returned to her home today, accompanied by another niece, Miss Margaret Stiles of Springfield.

Members of the Lee County Home Bureau are announcing their eleventh annual meeting for Wednesday at the Baptist church in Amboy. "The Home Is the Center of Every Woman's Interest, but Not the Circumference" is to be the theme for the day's program.

The morning session is scheduled to open at 10 o'clock, and will be followed by a luncheon prepared by women of the church. Special awards and recognitions will be made during the luncheon program.

Special guests from the University Extension staff and federation will be present, and will have a part in the day's program. The afternoon session will open at 1:30 o'clock.

The Reynolds unit was credited with 100 percent attendance last year.

SIXTH YEAR

Rexine Laidig, daughter of the Robert Laidigs of 104 South Hennepin, celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary with an afternoon party on Saturday. Gift cards for her birthday gifts read for Karylon Koch, Billy Docter, Donna Mae Attebury, Bernadine Worrell, Maureen Richard, Billy Schaller, Donna Mae Gerdes, Sharon Edwards, Sharon Knapp, David Howard, Betty Johnson, Donald and Marian Beach, Bobby Sauer, Jacqueline Fry, Joyce Hoyle, Alvin Glen Laidig, Rachel and Rosanna Smith, and Sylvia Cannon.

Rosanna Smith and Bobby Sauer received prizes in games.

TENTH YEAR

Mary Ann Sfolo celebrated her tenth birthday anniversary Sunday afternoon at her home, a party having been arranged as a surprise in her honor by her sister, Laura Rose. Games were played, and favors of candy apple lollipops were distributed.

The decorated birthday cake was a gift from Mrs. Paul Sodergren who assisted with the party plans. Mary Ann was unaware of the celebration until she returned from a visit at the Philip Bondi home.

Ice cream was served with the birthday cake. Guests numbered Mary Louise Hewitt, Edna Marie Nelson, Mary Anne Haley, Patricia Ann Devine, Patricia Lucille Gorman, Teresa Hoban, Alice Stover, Jean Dulan, Joan Smith, Jacqueline Fischer, Mary Margaret McFadden, and Carol Peterson of Rockford.

CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY IN GARYINGTON, IND.

Mr. and Mrs. John Youngberg and the Edward Stanleys and their sons, Robert and Jason, were in Garyington, Ind. yesterday, attending a celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Youngberg's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Anderson. Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums decorated the rooms, and two large wedding cakes were the principal table decoration for the anniversary dinner.

About 100 guests were received informally by the Andersons, who have visited frequently at the Youngberg home here. The Rev. Arthur Johnson, the couple's pastor, was among the visitors.

Among the many anniversary gifts received by the couple was a bronze plaque, inscribed with a favorite Bible verse, from the Andersons' church.

PARTY HOST

George Loesch, Jr., entertained nine guests at a Halloween party one evening recently at the country home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Helander. The group arrived in costume, and enjoyed a series of games, before toasting marshmallows and bobbing for apples.

Jack-o'-lanterns decorated the play room for the occasion. Refreshments were in keeping with the party theme.

Guests included Dona and Donald Jones, Russell and Bob Gilbert, Violet and Ray Farney, Gladys Ruble, Lawrence Merritt and Mary Etta Tomis.

CASH LOANS WITHOUT ENDORSERS

How you can borrow $100 if you can pay back $643 a month

NEED a cash loan? You can borrow $20 to $300—without endorers or guarantors—if you can make regular monthly repayments. You needn't even come to this office to apply for your loan. Just send the coupon below or a letter for complete information without obligation.

Payments to fit your income

See in the table below how you may repay your loan in convenient monthly installments that fit your own income. Suppose that you need $100 and can readily repay $9.77 a month. The table shows that your installments will repay a $100 loan in full in 12 months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for 20 months will also repay $100 loan. (Loans also made in other amounts and for other periods. Ask for payments on any loan not shown.)

Payments in the table cover everything. They include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/4% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $150, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $150. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Note that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs.

No red tape

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to acquaint us with your problem. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No credit inquiries made of friends or relatives. And you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan quickly and simply.

Send the coupon now for free booklet containing full information. No obligation to borrow!

People's Column

PROUD OF RECORD

Eight thousand American citizens have joined the Wendell Willkie club in Lee county. The chairman of the Willkie club wishes to express her most sincere appreciation to her co-workers in Lee county for this splendid work they have accomplished. But our work is not completed until all the ballots are counted. It is the duty of every citizen who signed the Willkie Petition to get out and vote, and vote early, and strive to take others to the polls. Those whom we were unable to reach, as we have had many calls from folks who said they had not been requested to join our Willkie club, no doubt have been called on but were not at home.

There is nothing we could do so well worth while as to help select such a fine sincere hardworking citizen as our president, as Wendell Willkie, who has fought bravely and squarely for this position. We know he will be just that fair as president, as he is for the people and will be elected by the people. We wish to thank the Dixon Evening Telegraph for the printing of our petitions and maps of Dixon precincts and every courtesy extended to us.

Chairman, Lee County Willkie Club.

Vote right now and you will not be sorry afterwards — Vote for Willkie. 2612

1,100 Editors of Country Express Their Judgments

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 4—When 1,100 editors out of 1,300 participate in a poll and each without consulting the other gives an appraisal of how the particular states they respectively know well are likely to go in the presidential election, it is as nearly a composite judgment of editor opinion as can be obtained in advance of election day.

Each editor was asked to check whether his state was "sure" or "leaning" toward Roosevelt or Willkie. In other words, there were four places to be checked on the ballot. Editors were asked their opinion of only their own states and the tabulation covers the 37 states outside the solid south. The result follows:

	Roosevelt	Willkie
	Sure Lean-	Sure Lean-
	ing	ing
Arizona	5	2
California	34	38
Colorado	2	2
Connecticut	6	8
Delaware	2	2

Gives Conclusion

In analyzing the foregoing and giving due weight to the numbers which seemed preponderant, I came to the conclusion that the electoral votes of the "sure" states for Roosevelt were 72, which with the Solid South gave him 196 electoral votes. The sure states for Willkie totaled 267 electoral votes while the doubtful "leaning" toward Roosevelt comprised 51 electoral votes and the doubtful "leaning" toward Willkie totaled 15 electoral votes. Here are the four groups as I interpreted the poll:

"Sure" for Roosevelt: Arizona, California, Delaware, Kentucky, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Utah, West Virginia, Massachusetts and the Solid South—Total 196.

Most Fateful Day for America Near Says Dwight Green

Final election statement from Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor:

"With the most fateful day in three quarters of a century only a few hours away, what ordinarily might be called a political campaign has become an exalted crusade which transcends all partisanship. In this great crusade, all other issues have been concentrated in one overshadowing issue—whether the people can regain self-government and keep their liberties in a world gone mad with intolerance and dictatorship.

"The people of Illinois have won their battle thus far, but they must fight right up to the time the votes are cast, counted and turned in on Tuesday, to protect that victory. Every trick of the political machine against which they are fighting will be used to intimidate and coerce voters and to steal and deface ballots. The people can clinch final victory by going to the polls early and by marking a cross in each square, in front of the name of each Republican candidate, as well as in the Republican party circle at the top of the ballot.

"During recent months I have visited every county in Illinois. I have talked personally to thousands of citizens so that I might learn their problems and get their own suggestions. I have formed a definite program to be followed when I am elected governor. It can all be summed up in the one pledge I have made, and which I renew now—that a dollar's worth of government shall be given for every dollar paid by the taxpayers, and that corruption and coercion in state administration must end.

Machine Must Go

"Two years ago I began the battle against the Kelly-Nash political machine in the mayoral primary. That issue has now become the battle of every decent citizen in Illinois. Kelly and Nash, after seizing Chicago and Cook county, reached out for control of state government so their jobholders could feed off more payrolls and of more waste and extravagance from the people's pockets. Before any program can be worked out to reform government in Illinois, the power of the Kelly-Nash-Statehouse political machine must be destroyed.

"First, and most important in the program I will carry out, is a reduction in the cost of government by the elimination of graft, padded payrolls and the waste in excessive politically controlled contracts and state purchases.

"Leaders in industry, business, labor and agriculture will be called into council frequently so that government may benefit by their experience and advice. In this manner they can help solve their own problems and speed up a program to put everybody in Illinois back to work.

"I will assure cooperation in government to the so-called small business men through a non-salaried Trade and Industry Conference Board, which will meet with state representatives.

"Labor will be supported in collective bargaining and peaceful picketing. When unions themselves desire it, assistance will be given in driving out racketeers control.

Plans Aid to Farmers

"Scientific methods of increasing industrial uses of agricultural products will be adopted, and farmers will be aided in soil conservation and reforestation.

"Politics will be eliminated from public education, and teachers will be given tenure of office and protected against injustices and intimidation.

"Civil service and other state workers will be protected against political pressure and illegal discharge, and anyone detected in forcing them into contributing to slush funds will be prosecuted.

"Public welfare and state institutions will be taken out of the hands of politicians and care of the underprivileged will be given into the hands of competent guardians.

"Adequate relief must be provided as long as there are any unemployed and a board of complaints and appeals will be set up to protect those on relief and WPA delays and political possibilities will be paid for old age assistance, sure.

"Legislation will be sought to remove the sales tax from food. This reduction of the burden on small wage earners would be taken from the money now turned into the general revenue fund for padded payrolls, and not from relief and other purposes which the sales tax was intended to meet.

"Make possible a reduction in the cost of motor vehicle licenses by eliminating highway contract graft and putting highway maintenance work on a business basis. Improve and increase highways by devoting all tax funds for this work to the purpose for which they were intended."

Beneficiary of T. B. Sanatoria Has Plea to Co. Voters

(Editor's note—The writer of this following article has spent over two years in sanatoria designed for the care and treatment of tuberculosis. His recovery has been directly attributed and made possible through the machinery adopted by the voters of Lee county for the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis.)

The value and economy of a comprehensive, intelligent T. B. program cannot be over-emphasized. As sure as it is good business to eradicate tuberculosis from a dairy herd it is good business to eradicate the disease from the human herd.

From an economic standpoint it is cheaper to bury a tuberculous cow than to treat her. From an economic standpoint it is cheaper to treat a tuberculous person than to bury him.

Let us examine the reasons for this statement.

First, tuberculosis is labeled an infectious disease.

The term "infectious" may be understood to indicate a disease that, unlike the mumps or the measles, is contracted usually through a contact of some duration. At this point the reader may feel a certain sense of relief as he realizes that tuberculosis has been labeled as an infectious disease and not as a contagious disease.

Let's not allow that complacency linger long.

Under certain conditions there are strong indications that tuberculosis may be transmitted almost as readily as a cold. In bovine tuberculosis the infected animal is not allowed to continue to expose the rest of the herd.

In the case of the tuberculous human we now have means through which we can prevent him from infecting the rest of us.

If the diseased person is allowed to die from tuberculosis either through his carelessness or our carelessness, it is safe to say that he has infected more than a few previously uninfected persons.

In the months just prior to his death he is potentially the most dangerous to the health of all the community.

It is possible that the victim will not be bedridden. He may be able to appear in crowds even at this late date of his disease. Wherever he walks may be dangerous ground for the uninfected person.

In the case of a bed-ridden victim, unless the utmost precautions prevail, he is liable to infect many of those who contact him. Part of the people so exposed may be expected to contract his disease.

The cost to the taxpayer for the care of these later victims and the people they inadvertently expose, is bound to be great.

Now it becomes clear why sanatorium care for the first victim would have been economically sound.

This hypothetical case is not overdrawn. Thousands upon thousands of case histories relating to tuberculous persons and their families verify these statements.

These unnecessary tragedies of error and carelessness are taking place in some counties every day. A county must have, not only adequate means of taking care of these persons who are recognizable victims of tuberculosis, but the county must have means of regularly examining suspects. These suspects consist largely of people who are known to have been in contact with a tuberculous person.

Authorities on tuberculosis maintain that the X-ray reveals tuberculosis sometimes two or three years before the victim will feel severe enough symptoms to send him to the doctor. When the disease has progressed far enough to alarm the subject, it is usually fairly well advanced and presents much more of a problem in time and money to effect a recovery, when recovery is possible.

It costs the county on an average of one thousand dollars a year to care for a patient in a sanatorium. This cost is for maintenance alone. In cases where surgery or special treatment is indicated, the cost is much greater.

These facts will help us to a realization of the economic worth of maintaining the program we now have in Lee county. A program that is designed to detect, prevent and eventually to eradicate tuberculosis. A program of the utmost humanitarian value and economic worth.

pire. Under the circumstances one would expect English officialdom to greet any such peace terms with what it has said in effect before that J. Bull is too ample of girth and too worldly-wise to play the part of little Miss Ridgely. That is to say, the English don't trust Herr Hitler's word.

Only a fortnight ago British Premier Churchill declared this as his country's war aim:

"We seek to beat the life and soul out of Hitler and Hitlerism—that alone."

Hitler and Hitlerism are the same thing. Hitlerism is a one-man show—and Hitler is it. We therefore have the unusual, though not unique, circumstance of an empire engaging in combat to the death with an individual. That's what this war amounts to—a struggle between Hitler and the British empire. One or the other is going to disappear from the picture.

Anyway, while England has a tough row to hoe, the going just now seems to me to be considerably more promising than it was a while back. Making predictions in this mad war is like crossing Niagara Falls on a tight-rope, but I venture to say it's far from sure that Mussolini didn't confer a great boon on Britain when he lashed out at Greece.

The great object of the Roman assault presumably was to secure air and naval bases, especially on the strategic islands which form a gateway across the Aegean sea. These would be vital to any axis attempt to force the Dardanelles.

However, instead of achieving a blitzkrieg, as they expected, the fascists have tossed priceless bases into England's lap, thereby going a long way towards nullifying their efforts. The biggest news of today's operations is the British official confirmation that they have occupied the island of Crete.

That great island, with its fine anchorage for warships and ample space for air-fields, is a priceless gift for England. She couldn't occupy this, and other islands, while Greece was still neutral. Crete, apart from other Greek bases which Britain presumably has occupied, provides a base from which she can strike in all directions in the eastern Mediterranean.

It affords protection for Greece, a third term means a term for life, perhaps—is that what you want. Think it over. It is everyone's concern.

If a leader was ever needed in this great country it is now—and Wendell Willkie is the man to lead us in the true American way.

Young Husband Admits Murder of Expectant Mother During Quarrel

Allegan, Mich., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The body of 17-year-old Eileen Darrow was uncovered today in a shallow grave on a farm near here after an all-night search by sheriff's deputies.

Dale Darrow, 23, the young held in the county jail, prosecutor Ervin Andrews said he had confessed he killed his wife during a quarrel Saturday. The couple was married last August.

The search for the young woman's body followed Darrow's appearance at police headquarters in Pontiac, Mich., early Sunday morning with a report that his wife had been kidnapped. His statement as related by Oakland County Prosecutor Charles L. Wilson was that he and his wife had been set upon by three men.

Wilson said the young woman—an expectant mother—and Darrow had quarreled about money.

The young woman's body was found in a grove on a farm owned by Darrow's grandfather. Sheriff Fred Miller said Darrow, a machinist, led the searchers to the grave.

Prosecutor Andrews quoted Darrow as saying he beat and choked his wife after they had quarreled during an automobile ride from Pontiac Saturday, but that he "didn't know why" he killed her.

for Turkey, for the all-important Dardanelles that bars the axis from the Near East, and for the great Greek port and railroad of Salonika, which the Italians hope to capture. It at last gives the Royal Air Force an air base close to Italy so that bombing operations can be opened up on a large scale—as witness the first raid of the war on Naples.

Crete also is a stout guardian for Egypt and the Suez canal. And it is close to Mussolini's lines of communication with his army which is trying to invade Greece.

On the whole, if the axis powers are planning an assault on the Dardanelles, Italy couldn't have offered the British a better defensive set-up. Now if England can make capital out of this situation she may win the active support of Russia and Turkey. Meanwhile, Hitler is straining every nerve to pull these countries into his camp, and success would be a sad blow to Britain.

A third term means a term for life, perhaps—is that what you want. Think it over. It is everyone's concern.

Two Shot in Night Club Near Peoria Polling Places

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Freed, one of the key figures in the 1936 slaying of Audrey Vallette, Chicago "Butterfly Girl", was named by Police Chief Leo F. Kamins today as the woman whose bullets felled her husband and a bystander in a crowded Peoria night club early Sunday morning.

In St. Francis hospital was her husband, Edward Freed, 40-year-old former Chicago night club operator, who had two bullet wounds in the leg. The bystander, Mrs. Robert Skillman of Peoria, suffered a shattered elbow bone.

Chief Kamins said witnesses gave him this account of the shooting:

Mrs. Freed, in company with a woman who identified herself as Miss Ann de Moss, 23, of Chicago, entered the night club at 3 A. M. yesterday and walked to a table where her husband was sitting with one of the establishment's dancers, Miss Judy Allen, 23, Chicago.

Over her arm, Mrs. Freed carried a scarf. When she reached the table, she drew a .32-caliber revolver from under the scarf and fired five times. Two of the bullets found their mark in Freed's leg, two went wild, but another struck Mrs. Skillman, who was sitting some distance away.

Unable to Get Gun

Freed, the chief said he was told, grappled with his wife but was unable to get the gun. Two hundred persons in the club scrambled for exits.

Mrs. Freed, 37, collapsed soon after the shooting and was taken to the hospital, where attaches described her condition as serious.

Mrs. Skillman's husband filed a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill against Mrs. Freed, while Earl McDowell, the club proprietor, charged her with assault with a deadly weapon.

Kamins, who ordered Miss de Moss and Miss Allen held as material witnesses, said he had been informed that Mrs. Freed had accused her husband of being friendly with Miss Allen.

When the Vallette girl was slain July 2, 1936, Mrs. Freed was sought for questioning. Finally, after nearly a year's search, she surrendered, but a coroner's jury absolved her of connection with the shooting.

Lightning Held Likely Cause of Plane Crash; Will Cost Lives of 25

Washington, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has blamed "a severe lightning discharge" as the probable cause of the Lovettsville, Va., airplane crash which killed 25 persons August 31.

The lightning, it was said in a formal report which followed lengthy investigations, was in the immediate neighborhood of the Pennsylvania Central Airlines plane, and probably resulted in "the disabling of the pilots".

Thirty-One Teams, Still Undefeated, Untied in Nation

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Ten teams, including four of "major" ranking, were removed from the list of undefeated and untied football teams over the past week-end but three newcomers brought the total up to 31 survivors after the first Saturday of November.

The trio whose perfect records had been buried in obscurity were Milligan of Tennessee, Shurtleff of Illinois and LaCrosse (Wis.) Teachers.

Major casualties over the past week-end were Northwestern, Clemson, Navy and Detroit. Two Ohio colleges, Heidelberg and Oberlin, lost their first games as did Alma of Michigan while Colorado College, Alfred (N.Y.) and Grand Rapids (Mich.) junior college were tied.

The undefeated and untied teams include:

ALTHOUGH IDLE SATURDAY, HARMON HOLDS SCORING LEAD

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Though he enjoyed a day of rest Saturday along with his Michigan teammates, Tommy Harmon managed to cling to a slim lead in the national football scoring race. The big Wolverine's total of 87 points in five games, including 12 touchdowns, was one point better than the 86 boasted by Walter Domina of Norwich University in Vermont.

If ever we needed a Willkie, it is now.

THE CAMPAIGN IS ENDED BUT THE AROMA LINGERS ON

Never have such unscrupulous tactics been employed --- never have facts been so misrepresented --- never have honorable public servants been so reviled.

AND FOR WHAT?

In a final desperate effort of the old political bosses to regain the power they once held.

In a final desperate effort to defeat a people's government.

In a final desperate effort to put the old bosses back in the saddle.

ASK YOURSELF THIS:

What did any Republican administration ever do for the people of Lee County?

What—except provide soft jobs at high salaries for a few local bosses?

What has the Democratic administration done for the people of Lee County?

Public Improvements—public buildings—public works—money for schools—employment for the average citizen—safety for his savings—protection for his home—security in his old age.

Would you exchange all those things for a few soft jobs for a few political bosses?

Then do not be misled by last minute trickery.

MONDAY'S WASH

It's on Mondays that you learn if the guest picker's line shows any signs of tail-tale gray. Ed Lemon, former coach at Steward high school, was the fifth of the eight guests and came through Saturday's big games with a percentage of .700 with 14 right and six wrong. Ed's percentage falls a little short of the .789 set by Earl James and Jim Dominetta and the .737 scored by Peter Phalen but tops Robert Bovey's .684. Lemon was crossed up on the Wisconsin-Illinois, Oregon State-California, Baylor-T. C. U., Brown-Yale, Minnesota-Northwestern and Purdue-Iowa games. One of his claims to fame, however, was the 20 to 0 actual score he picked for the Navy-Penn game. Next week Coach Marvin Winger of Dixon high school will be the guest picker. He will be followed by James E. Bales and Ed Worley to complete the list.

PASS OVER THE LINE IS COMPLETED

In recording football games, sports writers naturally play up the scoring more than any other department of the game, with occasional mention of outstanding plays which happen in such a position that they have a clear view of them. But, nevertheless, while the players who are in the open and easy to see have had the bulk of mention, the fact remains that in the line this year were some outstanding players who time after time were in there stopping line plays, which made Dixon one of the best defensive teams in the conference. To the tackles, guards and center this paragraph is dedicated. Outstanding among any we have seen in the conference were Donald Vaile, Dan Shiaras and Harry Quick who were in on almost every play that came through Dixon's line this season and these two seniors and one junior (Shiaras) deserve credit for an excellent season.

"HUNTERS" DILEMMA

One of the local lads spent a happy time at the Illinois homecoming week before last about mid-week it began to have repercussions. He received a telegram from a couple of friends who said he had invited them here for some duck hunting. In the confusion of goodfellowship which surrounds the homecoming celebrations, the Dixon youth had no idea they would accept. To add to his worries, he'd never been hunting in his life—he had only mentioned that duck hunting is good in these parts. For a couple of days he went around asking shotgun shooters where to get the mallards and finally sent a special delivery to the "guests" that he was going to be out of town. Undaunted they wrote back that all he had to do was assure them where the good hunting would be found . . . that they were coming, anyway.

PACES THE BADGERS

Don Miller, Dixon's contribution to the Wisconsin Badgers, played an outstanding game in the victory over Illinois Saturday to brighten the Wisconsin homecoming. Miller returned a kickoff past midfield for 52 yards and broke up a number of Illinois passes. He also helped to pace Wisconsin's first touchdown drive which started at midfield. With George Paskvan he aided in piling up three first downs to the Illinois' 14. Mrs. Mae I. Miller, mother of the Dixon youth, attended the game and it was the first time she had seen her son in big time action.

CHAMPIONS TO GRADUATE

Saturday's game with Clinton, Ia., will be the final high school game for practically the entire first team of the Sterling champions. The only exceptions are Fenner, H. Woodyatt and Nelson. A number of reserves, including J. Woodyatt, Wolfe and Steadman, will also be graduated next June.

POLITICS AND SPORTS

WITNESS BEARS' VICTORY

John Gray, Forrest Trautwein, Kent Stuart and Willard Jones were among the Dixon fans who saw the Chicago Bears defeat the Green Bay Packers in Chicago yesterday afternoon.

ALUMNI TO PRACTICE TONIGHT

The alumni football candidates will hold their first practice under the lights at the local high school field tonight at 7 o'clock. The grads will meet the Ducks in the windup of the season here Friday night. Tonight's drill will be one of two under the lights and players are urged to be on time as the lights will be turned on for only an hour and a half. Coach Charles Roudy is mentor for the oldsters.

FUTURE GOLF CHAMPIONS

In about 17 to 20 years the golfers who play in the Lincoln Highway tournament had better be on their toes. There's likely to be a twosome from Dixon which will clean up all honors. The past week saw two future golfers make their bow into the world with sons born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Detweiler and to Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Rorer. The papers are among the city's best club swingers.

CLIMAX OF FRESHMAN SEASON

The University of Wisconsin freshman football candidates will climax their season Saturday at Camp Randall in Madison when they play their annual classic, Leland (Butch) Shoaf of Dixon is a member of the Wisconsin frosh team and will likely see action in Saturday's game.

AT CAMP RANDALL

Lyle Bellows and Fred Lawton were among those from Dixon who attended the Wisconsin-Illinois game at Madison on Saturday.

Saturday Tilts Should Just About Decide Who Is Who in Grid World

By HUGH S. FULERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Minnesota plays Michigan next Saturday; the Texas Aggies encounter Southern Methodist and Stanford meets Washington. When these games are over the long-suffering football "experts" may have some real idea of who is who in the football world this season.

Minnesota and Michigan are the unbeaten and untied survivors of the titanic struggle for the Western Conference championship. The Texas Aggies and Stanford have equally perfect records and high ranking. S. M. U., unbeaten, has been tied once but figures to give the Aggies the battle of the season, is right behind Stanford in the Pacific Coast conference race.

Ranking with these on the list of unbeaten and untied candidates for the mythical national title are Cornell, Georgetown, Boston College, Notre Dame and Tennessee. Penn State, LaFayette and Hardin Simmons also have clean slates and Texas Tech has only one tie against her record. They don't appear to rank quite as high as the others, however.

Looking them over one section at a time, the prospects for continued success of the leaders are about like this:

Toughest Schedule
East—Cornell has played by far the toughest schedule without showing a sign of a let-down. Columbia, considered a possible upsetter, was just a 27-0 victim for the Big Red team last Saturday and Yale, off its showing so far which includes a 6-2 loss to Brown last Saturday, will be lucky to do as well this week.

Georgetown didn't fall far short of Cornell's score when it beat Syracuse 28-8 for its 22nd consecutive game without a defeat. The

MICHIGAN MEETS MINNESOTA FOR PIVOTAL BATTLE

Saturday's Game to Be Second Big Natural In As Many Weeks

Standings of the Western Conference:
Team	W	L	T	Pts.
Minnesota	3	0	0	25
Michigan	1	0	2	0
Northwestern	3	1	0	30
Ohio State	2	2	4	39
Wisconsin	2	2	4	76
Purdue	1	2	4	37
Indiana	1	2	3	47
Iowa	1	3	4	77
Illinois	0	2	6	41

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Michigan and Tommy Harmon, having cleaned up their intersectional foes with neatness and dispatch, now turn their attention to clarifying the Western Conference football race.

The all-winning Wolverines collide Saturday at Minneapolis with a likewise undefeated Minnesota eleven in the league's second big football "natural" in as many weeks. A packed house of 65,000 or more is a virtual certainty for the pivotal battle.

Michigan rested last week after stringing together victories over California, Michigan State, Harvard, Illinois and Penn while the Gophers were squeezing by Northwestern, 13 to 12.

If the Gophers can whip Michigan they then will be an overwhelming favorite to take the conference championship, having games only with Purdue and Wisconsin remaining. Neither figures to upset a squad as loaded with versatile talent as Bernie Bierman's crew.

Michigan, after taking on the Gophers, face Northwestern and Ohio State, constituting a heavy three-week schedule in anybody's league.

Scored Two Touchdowns

Bob Sweiger scored both of Minnesota's touchdowns against hitherto undefeated Northwestern and Halfback Joe Mernik booted the all-important placement after the first. The Wildcats scored first on a pass and then on a long ground drive, but Don Clawson missed the uprights after the first score and George Benson, his substitute, failed in the other effort.

Saturday's four league games left Minnesota on top with three victories, Michigan second with one and Northwestern third with three wins in four engagements.

Ohio state bounced back into a fourth-place tie with Wisconsin by turning back Indiana, 21 to 6. The Badgers produced a 13 to 6 triumph over Illinois' basement eleven with a fourth period touchdown on Johnny Tennant's 63-yard jaunt.

Purdue climbed into a sixth-place tie with Indiana with a decisive 21 to 6 victory over Iowa, the loss dropping Eddie Anderson's Hawkeyes into eighth place.

Illinois and Northwestern tangled Saturday in the only other conference game. Ohio State is idle while Purdue plays Fordham at New York, Iowa at Nebraska, Wisconsin at Columbia and Michigan State at Indiana.

Southwest—Preparing for this week's decisive encounter, Texas A. & M. rolled over Arkansas 17-0, while Southern Methodist outscored Texas, 21-13. Rice, also unbeaten in the conference, beat Texas A. & I., 9-6 on a list-minute field goal. Rice meets Arkansas this week. Texas and Baylor meet in the remaining game. Outside the conference, Hardin-Simmons plays Loyola at Los Angeles Friday night while Texas Tech is idle until next Monday.

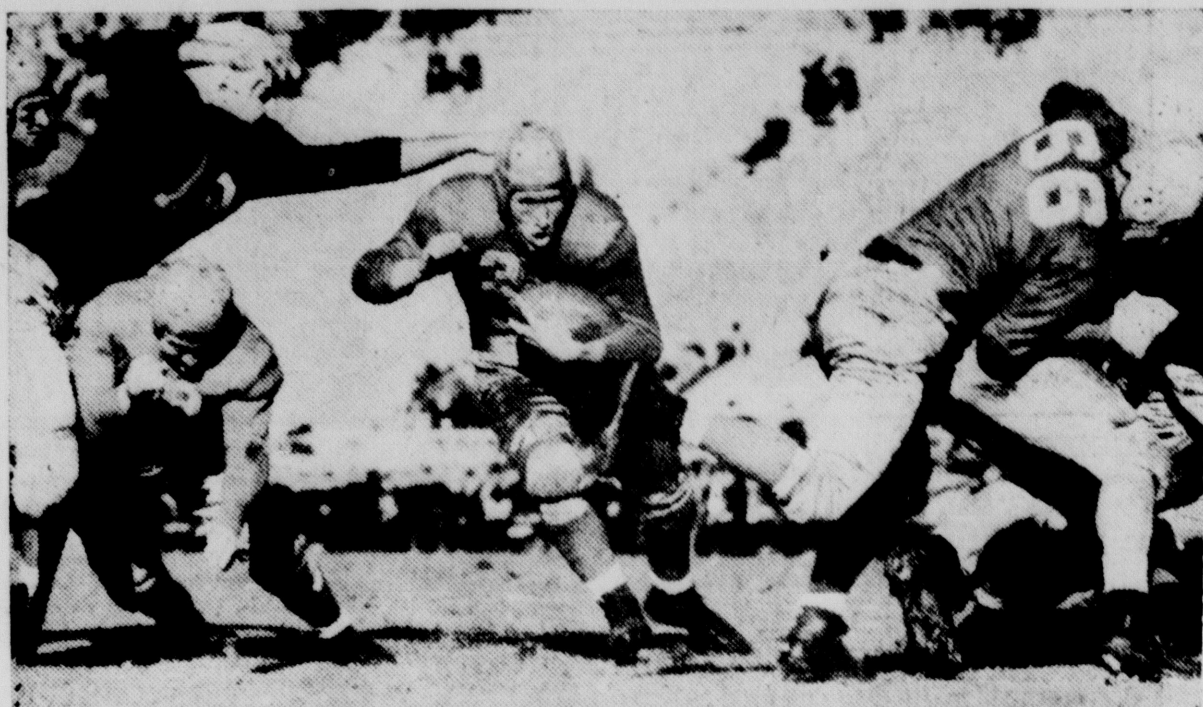

Anybody's Race

Rocky Mountain Big Seven—It's anyone's race now since Utah knocked off Colorado, 21-13, to go into a tie for the conference lead. The Utes play the powerless Wyoming team Saturday while Colorado meets Missouri. Denver and Brigham Young, tied for third, play each other while Colorado State meets Utah State.

Pacific Coast—Stanford had to stave off late rallies to beat U. C. L. A., 20-14. Washington may prove a tougher customer this week. Other conference games this week send Oregon State, 19-13 surprise winner over California, against Washington State, which beat Idaho, 26-0. U. C. L. A. against Oregon, victor over Montana, 38-0, and California against Southern California.

Visiting Pinmen Spill Locals in Matches Sunday

Dixon keglers didn't fare so well against out of town competition here yesterday afternoon and Clinton, Ia. and Aurora pinmen went home with the honors.

The Tanner Hardware company of Aurora defeated the Williams DeSoto quintet in a match game, 2407 to 2319. Hibben's 504 series paced the winners while Ed Worley of Dixon rolled 521 for his mates. High games included Simpson 200 and Beihl 200; both of Belvidere and Worley's 204 in his second game.

Clinton Recreation defeated Strub & Schultz, 2207 to 2199. Strigley led the winners with 476 and Underwood's 467 was high for the local boys.

In an inter-league affair the Three Deuces of Doug Curran defeated Jay Curran's spillers, 2852 to 2798. Winebrenner led the winners with 532 and Huggins was high for the losers with 544.

MEN'S BOWLING CIRCUITS OPEN THEIR 10th WEEK

Rainbow Inn Quintet Tops Ladies League; Roll Tonight

They're going to have to divert Rock River to put out the wood-burning at the Dixon Recreation these days as the men's leagues head into their mid-season tride with the tenth week of maple scorching.

Tonight the Ladies' League opens its eighth week with the Rainbow Inn leaders meeting the second place Amboy Royal Blue quintet. The inn girls hold a margin of three games.

Tomorrow night the City League gets rolling with the Plum Hollow leaders meeting the fourth place Three Deuces with only two games separating them from a tie. The golfers team has won 16 and lost 11. Strub and Schultz and Myers Royal Blue are tied for second place.

In the 16-team Classic League which meets on Wednesday night, the Williams DeSoto pinmen are leading by a margin of two games over the Dixon Machine Works. This week the leaders will meet the Coca Cola club.

Three Are Tied

In the same league three clubs—Belers, Welty's Pontiacs and Knacks—are tied for third place with 16 wins and 11 losses.

In the Commercial League which meets on Thursday night, the Cahill Electrics are leading over the Round-Up with a one game margin and Sparky's Fenders are third with 15 wins and 12 defeats. Last Thursday night the league's activities were cut in half by the attraction of the Sterling-Dixon football game, but will roll at full house capacity this week with the leaders meeting The Dixon Telegraph.

Dixon Cafe holds a fourgame margin in the Major League which spills the pins on Friday nights. The top team has won 20 and lost seven for the best record in the city. On Friday the cafe pinmen will meet Freemans, Blatz and Sunnybrook are second and third respectively in the circuit.

Dixon Bowlers Win Matches on Belvidere Alleys

Following the style set a couple of weeks ago by the Dixon football team, the local keglers went to Belvidere Saturday night and defeated the hosts in two match games on their own alleys.

The Dixon Recreation traveling team defeated the Pabst five, 2768 to 2699, with John Smith turning the maples to charcoal with a knockout series of 228-194-226 for 648 to lead the locals. Other high games for the locals included the 226 and 201 rolled by Ed Worley.

In another match game the Plum Hollow aggregation rolled over the Corn Belt District team, 2683 to 2143. Larry Poole led the locals with a 561 series and the high games were the 208 by Ken Lair, 212 by Wayne Stewart and 211 by Poole.

Russians Watch and Wait by the Black Sea

U. S., Canada Co-operate on Joint Defense Projects

United in the cause of American defense, the U. S. and Canada are cooperating on two projects at opposite ends of the continent. Study of the $25,000,000 Alaskan highway by the U. S.-Canada defense board has resulted in predictions that work on the project will start by spring. It is regarded as an important link. New moves to harness the power of the St. Lawrence for defense factories in both nations have spurred interest in completion of the widening of the waterway to permit largest ocean vessels to reach Great Lakes.

Numerous Ways to Vote Split Ticket in Tuesday's Poll

There are several ways in which a voter may cast a "split" ballot in tomorrow's election, it is explained by election officials; but voting will be easy for thousands of confirmed Republicans and Democrats who will vote straight tickets by putting an "x" in the circle at the head of their favorite party ticket. However a voter need pay no attention to any of the party circles.

He can take his choice of candidates from any of the four parties listed on the ballot—Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Socialist. All the voter needs do is mark an "x" in the square in front of the candidate of his choice, exercising, however, care that he does not vote for more than one man for any one office.

However, he can vote for one, two or three candidates for state representative from this district; for four candidates for trustees of the University of Illinois; and for two congressmen-at-large.

On the other hand, a voter can put a cross in the circle of any of the four parties listed on the ballot. He can then move into any of the other party columns or of the independent column, and mark an "x" in the square in front of the name of any candidate. This "x" in the square takes precedent over the candidate for the same office listed in the party column at the top of which the voter previously had placed a cross.

Example Cited
For example: A voter, should he desire, could place a cross in one party circle; an "x" in the square in front of the name of a second party's candidate for governor; an "x" in front of the name of a third party's candidate for President, and an "x" in front of the name of a fourth party's candidate

EASY TO MASTER

The ukulele is said to be the easiest instrument of all for a music student to master. With careful study, many persons learn how to play it adequately in a week and expertly in a year.

NUMISMATICS

The science of collecting coins is known as numismatics, from the Latin "numisma," or coin, and includes historic study of medals and coins in general.

Skating Masquerade

A good crowd attended the masquerade party at the roller skating rink Halloween night. Virgil Waterbury won the first prize for the best costume and Eleanor Geane Parvin won the second prize.

Eagle Point Aid Society

The Ladies Aid met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Weigle. There were fourteen members present. The afternoon was spent in making quilts. Mrs. Weigle served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be November 14th at the home of Mrs. Minnie Grant.

W. M. A. of Brick Church

Mrs. Amos Ehnman, Mrs. Rex Wood and Mrs. Maude Elsey were hosts to the missionary society of the Brick church at the former's home Friday afternoon. There were thirty members present. Mrs. Alice Ford was the leader and she gave a discussion on "Home Missions." Mrs. Louisa Reitzel gave an interesting report on "Migrant Workers." Mrs. Howard Webster and Mrs. Ben Sanford furnished several musical numbers. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

Party at Peek Home

Mrs. Anna Powell, teacher of the Moore school was a dinner guest at the Peek Home Halloween evening. The pupils of the school who were not members of the Home group were invited in for an evening of fun and entertainment. The rooms were decorated with corn shocks and pumpkins and the dining room table was adorned with orange and black streamers, with a jack-o'-lantern for the centerpiece. On either ends were lighted tapers and the holders were hollowed corn cobs. Games and stunts, an apple bob and a doughnut eating contest were enjoyed by the children, after which a lunch in keeping with Halloween was enjoyed.

Mrs. W. H. Deter entertained the following guests at dinner on Thursday, Mrs. Lester Skaggs of Chicago, Mrs. John D. Coffman and Mrs. Robert Jones. In the afternoon, Mrs. Deter and her guests and Mrs. Rena Clevidence called at the Grover Coffman home. Miss Floris Fouke submitted to an appendectomy at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital in Dixon Friday morning.

Federal Attorneys in State Already Probing Vote Fraud Allegations

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Federal District Attorney Howard L. Doyle asserted today that government prosecutors in Illinois were "keeping a watchful eye over the coming election in downstate Illinois" and already were investigating complaints of ballot tampering.

Doyle said he and Arthur Roe, eastern Illinois district attorney, had received complaints "of tampering with absentee ballots after their deposit in the county clerk's office in several counties."

He added that any violation of law uncovered in connection with such complaints would be "promptly presented to the next United States grand jury."

The district attorney did not disclose the localities in which irregularities were alleged to have taken place.

Sublette

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ansteat and family, Tim Stauffer of LaMoille, Joe Conway of Amboy were Sunday guests at the home of Seymore Bonnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ulth returned from their wedding trip through the western states.

The pupils of the Sublette public school enjoyed a Halloween party Thursday afternoon.

The Sublette unit of Home Bureau will meet November 7th in the home of Mrs. Gust Bauer. Mrs. Helen Long, local leader, will give the lesson, New Methods in Cooking Poultry.

The True Blue club held a short business meeting Thursday. Roll call was answered with names of favorite fruits. The meeting was then turned into a Halloween party. Games and stunts were enjoyed by all. Each person won several prizes. Mrs. Bauer sent delicious pumpkin pies, for which the class was very grateful.

Those pupils of the Bartlett school who have been neither absent or tardy are: Bernadine Bauer, Junior Bonnell, Ruth Bauer, Wanetta Bonnell and Francis Menz. Norman Bauer was absent one day during October.

Mr. and Mrs. LeBar of Douglas, Wyoming, visited friends here over the week end.

JAMES A. JULY

James A. July, 79, well known Sublette farmer passed away at his home north of Sublette Saturday, Oct. 27, 1940. Mr. July had been ill for the past year but was not confined to his bed until a week previous to his death.

Funeral services were held from the home on Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Burial was made in the Union cemetery, near Sublette.

James A. July, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. July, was born June 24, 1861, in Adams county, Ohio. He came to Illinois with his parents in 1876. He was married to Miss Ella Pederson of Sublette in 1886 and the couple resided in this community since their marriage.

Surviving besides the widow is a daughter, Mrs. Grace Clark of Sublette. A daughter, Esther preceded her father in death in 1918.

Mrs. Irvin Rapp and daughter Eleanor, son Regg and George Mason attended the national corn husking contest on Wednesday at Davenport, Iowa.

Woman's Club

Mrs. Frank Oester entertained the Woman's club Thursday afternoon. After a short business meeting a program was presented by Mrs. Ella Hatch, assisted by the members. It consisted of the reading of current events. Fifteen members and four guests were present. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Oester.

Next meeting will be held Nov. 14 at the church parlors. A scramble dinner will be enjoyed at noon, after which will follow the election of officers.

Shower

State's Election Officials Prepare for Record Totals

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Ballot boxes secluded in storage compartments for seven months were removed by Illinois election officials today and placed in polling booths where tomorrow an anticipated record number of voters will exercise their franchise in the presidential election.

As candidates for the principal state and national offices made last-minute appeals in radio broadcasts, election officials prepared for the heaviest ballot in the state's history, with an indicated vote of more than 4,000,000.

The weather bureau forecast of probable inclement weather in the state on Tuesday was discounted as a factor in keeping the vote below the record 1936 presidential poll. Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes has predicted that the total vote in the 8,378 precincts in Illinois would surpass the 1936 record of 3,995,088 and the final count might total 4,250,000.

The main reasons cited by officials for the expected avalanche of votes were that Illinois was considered one of the pivotal states in the presidential race, and that both Republicans and Democrats claimed victories in the chief state and national offices.

Both Leaders Confident
From Ben L. Berve, chairman of the Republican state central committee, came a statement that "the entire Republican ticket should carry the state substantially."

An equally optimistic statement was issued by P. A. Nash, chairman of the Democratic county central committee. His prediction was that Roosevelt and Wallace would carry Illinois "and the entire Democratic state and Cook county ticket will win election Tuesday by an overwhelming popular vote."

Harry B. Hershey, Democratic candidate for governor, issued a statement stating that the "entire Democratic ticket for Illinois will be elected by pluralities closely approximating the president's wide margin of victory." He forecast Roosevelt would win the state "by a vote which may possibly exceed that given him by this state in 1936."

U. S. Senator James M. Slattery, Democratic nominee for re-election, said that downstate leaders "now are confident that Roosevelt will come to Chicago even with or slightly in the lead of the Republican candidate."

Sees "Machine" Smothered
At a rally here yesterday, Hugh W. Cross, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, predicted an Illinois vote "smothering the corrupt Kelly-Nash state house machine" with a Republican majority "nearing landslide proportions."

Hershey and Slattery and their respective Republican opponents, Dwight H. Green and Wayland Brooks, appeared at several rallies yesterday and all were scheduled for radio broadcasts tonight. Hershey will make his talk from his home in Taylorville, the others from Chicago.

A lengthy ballot will be handed voters going to the polls, which will open at 6 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. In addition to voting for a president and vice president, they will mark their ballot for a governor, U. S. senator, five other major state officers, members of congress and the general assembly and county officers.

The 1940 presidential election will mark the first time in modern political history that one of the candidates did not visit Illinois or deliver one campaign speech within the borders of the state. Although Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee, made six campaign appearances and passed through almost every section of the state, Roosevelt travelled only as far west as Cleveland in his campaign.

1936 Figures

Illinois Republicans cast 1,570,393 votes for Alf M. Landon in 1936, as against 2,282,999 for Roosevelt, giving the President a plurality of 712,606. The 1936 general election gave the Republicans mathematical gains, with the congressional delegation strengthened and the Democratic plurality in the most important race, the senatorial contest, reduced to 95-588. In the last April 9 primary, the total Republican vote was 1,143,761, while the Democratic total was 1,503,706. The downstate Republican plurality was 119,211.

Slattery and Brooks is for the unexpired term of the late Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, who was elected to serve until 1942. Slattery was named by the late Governor Horner after Lewis' death in April, 1939.

State Contests

Green, Chicago attorney was the G. O. P. nominee for mayor last year and polled the largest total vote ever given a Republican candidate in Chicago. His opponent, Hershey, a Taylorville lawyer, is seeking his first election to a state office and has the active support of the Kelly-Nash organization here and of Gov. John Stelle downstate.

Louie E. Lewis, incumbent state treasurer, opposes Cross, who is speaker of the Illinois House, for the post of lieutenant governor. Hughes and Justus L. Johnson are opponents for secretary of state.

Nominees for state auditor are John C. Martin, a congressman-at-large, and Arthur C. Lueder, former Chicago postmaster under Republican administrations. Warren Wright of Springfield is the G. O. P. nominee for state treasurer and his opponent is Homer Mat Adams, national president of the Young Democratic clubs.

Two Chicagoans — Harold G. Ward, Democrat, and George F. Barrett, Republican, are candidates for the office of attorney general. Voters also will elect two congressmen-at-large, one congressman from each of the state's 25 districts, 26 state senators and 153 state representatives. County officers also will be named.

Names of four parties—Democratic, Republican, Socialist and Prohibition—will be on the state ballot.

WALTONIANS ELECT

Elgin, Ill.—(AP)—The Illinois division of the Izaak Walton League of America elected Stanley H. Simpson of Chicago president to succeed Robert Smart of Chicago. Vice president elected were A. J. Cope, Jr., Urbana, L. O. Triggs, Eldorado, and Harry R. Williams, Danville. Joseph A. Duor of Wheaton was elected treasurer and Dr. Vernon Lyons of Pekin secretary.

CAPITAL EDUCATOR DIES

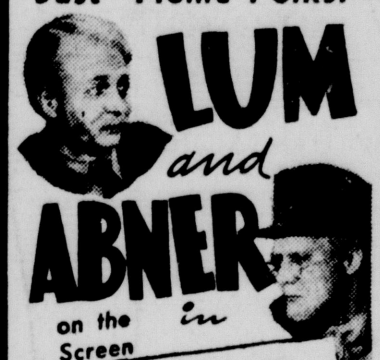

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Eugene R. Dougherty, 38, dean of Springfield Junior College, died in St. John's hospital early today following an emergency appendectomy.
